Caller says that he has neighbors that moved across the street from where he lives, and that the woman resembles missing girl. Caller says that the woman lives with a man and 2 small kids. Caller says that they live at:

919 Morning Glory Dr

Charlotte, NC 28262

Caller says that he specifically saw the woman last week sometime maybe on Thur/Fri. Caller says that the woman is blond of the same height and weight. Caller says that the woman is living with a guy that looks like the picture of her boyfriend on the AMW profile. Caller says that the police came to his house looking for a registered sex offender named Raf Glover. Caller says that the man the police is looking for is missing girl's boyfriend. Caller says that the couple has 2 small kids in the house. There is a little girl about 2 and the little boy is about 1yr old. Caller says that the woman and her boyfriend have been in the area 4-6 months. Caller says that the woman hardly ever comes out of the house. Caller says that the man works every day (however he does not know where). Caller says that they have several cars and an SUV and a motorcycle and an Infinity.

Subject: missing persons case

Dear Bryan,

I am a detective with the Henderson Police Dept in Henderson, Nv In case this doesn't sound familiar, we are a city of about 250,000 and could be considered a southern suburb of Las Vegas I have a rather high profile missing persons case that has been featured on local television, as well as America's Most Wanted. After one of the AMW shows aired, we received numerous (8) tips that a person of interest in this case was seen on your show. To the best of my knowledge, this episode was titled "Las Vegas Heat" and this person was contacted in a Hummer. I am unable to purchase this episode and was wondering if it would be possible to go directly to you for this. Thanks for your consideration.

The National Center for Missing Adults (NCMA), a division of the Nation's Missing Children Organization, provides assistance to families and law enforcement in the search for missing persons. NCMA is a federally and publicly supported nonprofit organization dedicated to the prevention of abduction and the safe recovery of missing persons with primary focus on adults determined by law enforcement to be endangered due to foul play, diminished mental capacity, physical disability, or suspicious circumstances.

We are here to support your efforts and to generate leads for your investigation. This agency greatly enhances your ability to network and distribute the missing person's information nationwide to other law enforcement agencies, medical examiners, media and the general public. NCMA does not investigate leads and is considered a support to law enforcement. All information distributed on behalf of a missing person has the law enforcement phone number prominently placed enduring that calls are received directly by the investigators. Should any information be received by NCMA, it is immediately forwarded to the responsible law enforcement agency.

Representatives of Congress recognize this agency as fulfilling Kristen's Law and have provided federal funding to establish NCMA as the first national clearinghouse for missing adults to provide assistance to law enforcement agencies nationwide as well as support services to family members. We are an additional resource that you can rely on for assistance.

We have enclosed a website printout of Lindsay M. Harris (report #05-09938) for your file. Lindsay's information is posted on our website at www.missingadults.org with links to local, state and federal law enforcement sites, as well as popular sites like America's Most Wanted.

Please feel free to call should you have additional questions. We can be contacted at 602-749-2000 or send email to t_young@missingadults.org.
